KIOTECHAGIL WINS UFAS AND FEMAS CERTIFICATION

Agriculture to aquaculture company KiotechAgil, has received UFAS and FEMAS Certification.

The UFAS (Universal Feed Manufacturers Association) approval scheme ensures that everything a certified company produces satisfies the stringent controls applied to animal feed manufacture in the UK in respect of raw material selection, salmonella control, quality assurance of manufacture, acceptable recall procedures and full traceability.

“These certifications give us every confidence in the quality, safety and traceability of all our products, said Kiotechagil chief technical officer Murray Hyden. “Our production plant is tested for quality control procedures covering salmonella, insects, birds and potential chemical contaminants and all our staff are fully trained as to the importance of the work they do in relation to the animal feed supply and ultimately to the human food chain.”

Kiotechagil supplies high performance natural feed additives to the aquaculture and agriculture markets. It brings together the expertise of Kiotech and Agil across the three key protein sources of poultry, pig and fish. Kiotechagil has a distribution network in over 50 countries and aims to be the leading player in supplying high performance natural feed additives - enhancing health, growth and sustainability in aquaculture and agriculture.
